

July 25, 2023

RE: CEMCO's lawsuit against KPSI and James A. Klein, et al.

KPSI recently disseminated a notice that misrepresents several key facts regarding CEMCO and its Firestopping product offering. As a result of these deceitful claims, CEMCO will be amending its current lawsuit against both KPSI and its owners to also include False Advertising against CEMCO Firestopping products.

- KPSI severely misstates the movement capabilities of CEMCO Fire Gasket®.
- KPSI misstates the status of its challenge to CEMCO's '389 patent along with the potential impact of such a challenge.
- KPSI misstates its ability to challenge CEMCO's other patents. Jim Klein (and all of his various entities) are legally barred from making such a challenge.

KPSI also misrepresents its own status regarding its legal liability. Changing names and fraudulently transferring assets, including trade names and test reports, will not absolve Klein, Safti-Seal or KPSI from two federal court judgments finding the FRG product to be infringing on CEMCO's patents.

For more information, please refer directly to the court cases noted below:

<https://cemcosteel.com/company/cemco-legal-notice/>

Case 2:18-cv-00659-JLR California Expanded Metal Products Company et al v. James Klein, United States District Court, Western District of Washington at Seattle

Case 2:20-cv-10409-MCS-JEM Seal4Safti, Inc. v. California Expanded Metal Products Co. United States District Court, Central District of California